

September 28, 2011

Friend,

We can't afford four more years of Dalton McGuinty and his outdated apprenticeship system, which serves special interests.

Ontario already produces 46% fewer tradesmen (per capita) than the rest of Canada. And Dalton McGuinty's College of Trades is little more than a payoff to the special interest groups supporting his re-election campaign.

It's time for change in Ontario.

A Tim Hudak government will fix Ontario's apprenticeship system. We will:

- Create 200,000 new apprenticeship jobs;
- Reduce Ontario's apprenticeship ratios to 1:1;
- Put community colleges in charge of signing up apprentices and finding them employers; and
- Review the College of Trades along with every other provincial agency, board and commission to ensure its providing good value.

To read more about the change we're proposing to drive job creation visit changebook.ca or to volunteer visit www.ontariopc.com.

Thank you for your support now and on October 6th.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read "Tim Hudak".

Tim Hudak
Ontario PC Leader

